

WHAT THE ACA MARKETPLACES DO FOR

Missouri

Since 2021, millions of Americans have received extra tax credits that lower their marketplace health insurance premiums. But unless Congress acts, these extra credits are set to expire at the end of this year. Ending them would leave 4 million people uninsured.

The Congressional Budget Office projects that an additional 2 million people nationally will become uninsured by 2034 due to marketplace coverage losses from Congress's new budget reconciliation law (H.R. 1).

331,300
people enrolled in the state received tax credits in Feb. 2024 to make coverage more affordable.

95%
of enrollees in the state received tax credits in Feb. 2024.

As of January 2025, 24 million Americans had selected a marketplace plan, about twice as many as in 2021.

During that same time, in Missouri, there was a 101% increase in marketplace enrollment.*

If the extra tax credits expire, then:

51,000 people in Missouri would become uninsured

The cost of annual marketplace premiums in Missouri would increase:

Enrollees with tax credits

↑ $720

Enrollees <250% federal poverty level

↑ $710

Enrollees >250% federal poverty level

↑ $760

Notes: *2021–2023 and 2024 (February only) figures represent state total average monthly effectuated enrollment; 2025 (January only) figure represents state total open enrollment. Effectuated enrollment includes only enrollees who paid the premium after enrolling. 250% of federal poverty level (FPL) is $37,650 for an individual in 2024.
